My Personal Diary Of 16-7-2019

Earlier today, on July 16th, 2019 I had the inspiration of recording a selfy-video while I was shopping my groceries at a local supermarket.

Unfortunately, this recording was accidentally erased, most probably, due to my cheap mobile phone's malfunction. And despite the non-positive paneuropean political circumstances I consider rather improbable, but not excluding, the case that this incident might had something to do with my human-rights potentially having been violated by an illegal interference to my claustrum related, electronic brain implant.
