Immediate Discontinuation of Diplomatic Relations With Greece

According to public, undeniable and reliable evidence (e.g. G. Kasimatis testimony) a dictatorship is ruling Greece.

The previous Greek dictatorship manifested from 1967 until 1974. During this period, the diplomat, great poet and Nobel laureate George Seferis dared to denounce publicly the then dictatorial regime. Also, he indirectly denounced that he was being poisoned. And after a while, he “died” due to his stomach health-problems.

On the contrary, during the current Greek dictatorship, no one of the Greek diplomats manifests any kind of opposition against the illegitimate political regime while, some of them were found to be complicit at the child organs’ smuggling and all the rest avoided to denounce publicly, neither, this heinous crime which harms children, nor, the rest of the crimes which the Greek dictatorship is, actively, or, passively, committing, like the allegedly “cancer” “epidemic” at the Thrace region, like the so-called “psychiatric” genocide, and like the high-treason regarding the non-termination of the “Hugh Cooper & Co” treaty.

Since the end of WW2, the British settler-colonialism dominates, one way or another, Greece. During the current dictatorship, almost the entire Greek natural leadership has been murdered (e.g. archb. Christodoulos, Giannos Kranidiotis, Tassos Papadopoulos, Neoklis Sarris, Sarantos Kargakos, Malvina Karali, Arleta, Panagiotis Kondylis, etc.). Consequently, in retrospect and having taken for granted that the British settler-colonialism remains remorseless and it retains its operational traditions, we must acknowledge that George Seferis was also assassinated by the then Greek dictators.

By discontinuing of their diplomatic relationships with dictatorships, the contemporary international community’s member-States, traditionally, express actively their solidarity and their compassion towards the citizens of these dictatorships, and also they prevent corrupted diplomats, which are serving their duties at these dictatorships’ foreign embassies and consulates, to perpetrate any kind of illegitimate activity including the political persecution of, having fled, legitimate political refugees.

As far as I am concerned and as being a Greek political refugee and exclusively under the current political, in Greece, circumstances, I would severely hesitate to even entrust a photocopy of my identity card to any Greek delegation abroad in order to protect my self from, potentially, becoming framed by the corrupted part of the Greek diplomacy and also, I believe it is imperative for all the international community’s member-States to immediately discontinue their diplomatic relationships, with the Greek dictatorship, until the political circumstances in Greece becomes normalized. Instead, by retaining these diplomatic relationships, the international community, indirectly, legitimizes the ruthless Greek dictatorship, designates the “law of the jungle” as the prevailing ethical system for the citizens to willingly embed thus making them prone to voluntarily resign from their human rights in order to be accepted as
