Brain-Implants – Settler-Colonialism - Undecidability

The settler-colonialism, by definition, aims towards confiscating the indigenous Nations' land; children; and future. And for doing this, migrates in the targeted Nations' land a settlers-army constituted by "drugged and maddened from opiates beforehand" criminals.

Why, targeted Nations fall victims of this, very well known, genocidal method, over and over again?

The answer, according to my opinion, is, because of “undecidability”.

By the exploitation and maintenance of “undecidability”, the Khazars, during the Byzantine historical period, infiltrated the Byzantine Empire’s gate-keeping positions and thus, they became able to severely degrade the Empire’s civilization to such an extent (castrations, blinding, mutilations, etc.) that the Empire’s downfall became inevitable.

The same applies with the contemporary European Continent.

More specifically, the massive brain-implanting of the European citizens, with brain-locking, remote-neural-monitoring technology provides the contemporary settler-colonizers the ability to arbitrarily manipulate the unsuspected European citizens’ behaviours in ways that, these artificial and induced behaviours (sexual, verbal, intellectual, etc.) combined with the, culturally embedded within the European citizens and pre-global-transhumanization-era stereotypes, they shall result the simultaneous destruction of the European natural leaderships’ members and the promotion towards positions of authority of the colonizing-settlers in order for them to apply genocidal-policies against the European Continent’s populations.

For example, in Greece, the colonizing Metropolis perpetrates systematic and involuntary behaviour-modification towards pseudo-homosexuality of anyone who they arbitrarily deem as having potential towards leadership. The related “black-ops” take place in schools, against unsuspected children, in various social clubs (against unsuspected scholars, sportsmen, etc.), and in the Armed Forces (against unsuspected soldiers).

On the other hand, they perpetrate systematic and involuntary stealing of Greek children’s organs/tissues (testicles) in order to eliminate the opiates consumption’s side-effects (pseudo-homosexuality, erectile-dysfunction) by which, the colonizing-settlers suffer.

And for all this scam to function, certainly there are the instrumental and colonizing, Greek, media and Internet-blogs, which repetitively and by making “remarkable” use of the dishonest-rhetorics art, they positively reinforce and propagate outdated and thus, undecidable stereotypes like the old Athenian rules about politically marginalizing the Greeks which, then, they manifested homosexual behaviours.

During the Byzantine Empire’s era atrocities were being committed like, castrations, blinding, amputations and much worst others. Today, according to my knowledge, the vast majority of the European citizens remain certain that, such monstrosities they do not happen within Europe.

My indigenous Greek family and me, we have gained, during the past sixty years, bitter knowledge about how much inhuman, bloodthirsty and monstrous, the contemporary “drugged and maddened from opiates beforehand” and armed with advanced, unconventional arsenal colonizing-settlers, they can be.

Concluding, I wish that, the contemporary and dishonest propagators of outdated-stereotypes to, somehow, become inspired so that they would contribute in doing the right thing with such catastrophic stereotypes by decommissioning them within the appropriate History’s compartment and that, the European citizens to, somehow, become inspired so that they would become able to, correctly, discriminate who their own natural leadership is and to realize that, good-leaders is not what Europe needs in order to survive from the contemporary settler-colonialism; instead, Europe may survive through good-leadership which, is the result of the combination of good-leaders and good-followers.

Not yet published research materials in interdisciplinary brain research and development of computer-brain interface must therefore be attributed to an unknown number of defenceless experimental subjects, many with families whose lives are destroyed in a wild orgy of computer abuse. This is to copy the cognitive behaviours and human perception in the development of quantum physics. Try The items have no options or informed consent, served as on-line research materials on ageing.

Brain Implants and miniaturized Signal Analysis System is implanted in people without their informed consent, in hospitals all over Europe. The systems are used to clone, and make an artificial copy of the human life, including their nervous system, memory, learning and emotions. This type of illegal research of are impossible to detect. This crimes can continue because yet there is no technology that can detect bioelectronics/neuroelectronics in nano size. The artificial intelligence which performs the majority of the research work, is programmed as a war machine that does not hesitate from any means in order to improve its learning and cloning of a human. This intelligence acquire continuously, more and more unreasonable arguments for continuing its work to grow, including the use of gross physical and mental abuse in an attempt to uphold ”companionship” with the person who is under intrusion. This is also a war between humans and the new computer brains.

Concluding on, we can say that even with the sheer risks involved, the endless possibilities poised by Nano Augmentation couldn't be ignored. It addresses the current bulky problems posed by traditional interface, and adds much needed functionalities. Implants would communicate directly with human nerves with the help of bio sensors and direct targeting of human cortex, making it one of the fastest implants. Some problems might arise, especially in the means of Information Overflow and Hardware Control. However none of them are problems that cant be addressed. Nano Augmentation would completely change the standard of living, with the sheer information exchange making the global village even smaller. It would connect us in unison and perhaps erase the political boundaries altogether. With Nano Technology and Digital Augmentation being the newest technological rage, it's only imperative that the combined usage of Nano Augmentation would perhaps be the most fruitful discovery of our times.

Stafford Beer's comments on a societal meta-language

Stereotypes are often useful concepts to deploy

Indeed it seems likely that we cannot manage without them.

What is wrong with the ones that we have is that they relate to a vanished world.

In a changed world, the old stereotypes give rise to undecidable propositions.

that the work they do is profitable not in the general sense of the word

But this remains a pretence.

The question: what are teachers, policemen, nurses worth?

of the stereotype.

Kay griggs interviews: the u.s. military is a mind control operation run by sexual deviants (homo & bi-sexuals/pedophiles)

There was a group of sexual psychologists and psychiatrists from Vienna. I was their expert. There's a whole range that study sexual perversion; Harvard, Yale, John Hopkins, and this Colorado group. A lot of these guys got their experience in Vietnam. They took these little boys, that's what their doing in Bosnia right now. They are training future leaders in perversion. The British has a school that George was working with in Indonesia. There was already a program in East Timor that had been set up by the Australians during WWII.

T. Parker Host now controls my husband along with Bob Edwards. T. Parker Host was the Finnish Council (at one time he was Norwegian and Icelandic Council). He brags about being with the mobs.

The ports are run by a homosexual hierarchy. Albert Einstein was in that little ring that the Saudis were in. George and Einstein partied together. Parker was in the Burma Special Operations Command. And he bragged about this. Parker plotted and did me in.

My husband is so close to Bush, MacFarlane, and Scrowcroft and all these guys.

My home and car were broken into while I was in court. Very strategically, I was called by a Marine Colonel named Jack who involved with this maritime shipping business. I had been invited as a guest to a banquet with George Bush and John Warner. Guess who introduced George Bush? T. Parker Host. He made it to the big time.

The Skull and Bones induction methods are now used in the Army. This goes back to the German thing, it's what the German High Command did. They say it goes back to Greece. They do the bowling ball trick. Now the Chiefs (of Staff) have to do this. They get everybody really drunk. Sometimes they call it "dining in." Not everybody does it. But the ones who do it, they get right up to the top. They do anal sex. They put someone in the coffin and he's the recipient of all the oral and anal sex acts.
