The Gurardian, Athens 1944: Britain's dirty secret

“Britain’s logic was brutal and perfidious: Prime minister Winston Churchill considered the influence of the Communist Party within the resistance movement he had backed throughout the war – the National Liberation Front, EAM – to have grown stronger than he had calculated, sufficient to jeopardise his plan to return the Greek king to power and keep Communism at bay. So he switched allegiances to back the supporters of Hitler against his own erstwhile allies”.

I am writing this article from the beautiful Ireland.

During the past 40 years of my life I may have seen within my social surroundings some of the most incredible boundaries of cruelty and inhumanity.

All my past experiences have led me to the conclusion that, during this current circumstances, there is no trustworthy formal institution, neither domestic, nor international, which could ever offer reliable support and protection to the innocents, to the weak and to those who are legitimately working for the promotion, of Democracy, of Human Rights and of Civil Rights.

The only spiritual support and the only way to maximize the possibility for their salvation may come, I believe, only if and when, specifically the people of good will and good faith, in each and every Nation of our world, may form a, as long as possible, human chain by holding each other, hand by hand, while praying for, the life, the health and the freedom, of the innocents, of the weak and of those who work for peace, freedom and civilization.

For the above reasons, I humbly ask everyone who might read this article to contribute for a public prayer to take place, all over the world, at 31/12/2014 – 22:00 GMT, for the benefit of those which I mentioned.

And then, each and every one, may contribute, peacefully, creatively, intermittently and as much as he can, in making our world just a little better place to live.

By our collective efforts, I believe, we are going to succeed.
