Legal Notice 83

Today, 26/6/2017, I found at various articles, at the internet, references and hypertext links towards an article of the Gatestone Institute's web site, with the title, "Greece: A Drug-Smuggling Case with Global Implications". The internet address of the link is, [http://www.gatestoneinstitute.org/10577/greece-drug-smuggling].

I have tried to connect to that internet address but the reply was like that article don't exist.

Could this link be a lure for loading malware on the, unsuspected users', computers? If, the answer is yes, then, my computer has, probably, been infected by unknown to me malware.
