Message to the Russian Citizens – Humanitarian Fundraiser

Dear Russian Ladies/Gentlemen,

The Russian mathematicians are, by far, the best in the world.

For deeply studying the Russian classical literature, which I regard as one of the most humanitarian in the world, I dedicated innumerable hours of my life and I never regretted for this choice.

The Russian classical music belongs, definitely, among the best classical music in the world.

The above are included among the reasons for your Nation's deserving to be respected and honoured.

This respect and this honour could probably be reinforced and safeguarded by yours accomplishing the following Humanitarian Fundraiser:

The objective of this fundraiser is for adequate monetary funds to be accumulated in order for 33,000 houses to be bought, in beautiful places all over Europe and then, immediately transferred (with neither any profit nor any commission deducted) to your president Mr Vladimir Putin, and for covering the legal-transactions and management costs.

Concluding, I believe that, this fundraiser, beyond reinforcing and safeguarding your Nation's justified pride and honour, it shall probably contribute in, many innocent civilians, including myself, which we have been illegally deprived from the ownership of our houses, to gain significant hopes that, we shall get our homes back and live long enough to enjoy them.

Sincerely,

Christos Boumpoulis
