Condolences for Cancer Victims Sympathy for Political “Psychiatry” Victims

Disclaimer: The issue of unethical practice of the “psychiatry” refers exclusively, to the specific countries which manifests, like Greece.

I would like to offer to the families of the, approximately, 765 millions deceased cancer-patients my deepest and most sincere condolences and may the soul of their loved ones rest in peace.

Also, in this sorrowful time, I would like to extend to the victims of the political “psychiatry” my heartfelt sympathy. May our Lord stand by their side.

Freedom, longevity, and good health, they are not blessings of life that could ever be enjoyed after, like pizza, making just a phone-call and then, the pizza-boy delivers the goods at the front door of our house.

Instead, these blessings demand from us to continuously struggle, for achieving and them, maintaining them; in all cases after having undertaking the just part of personal risk which corresponds, with no exception, to each and every one of us.

And even worst, during an ongoing calamity of settler-colonialism, the civilized citizens which they are serious that they want to live, they have no other choice than, to either become a good leader and guide the others, or, to become a good follower and stand by the side of a good leader, for the benefit of the civilized society.

Concluding I wish to be strict about the existing good leaders' quasi “volatility”.

The good leaders are rare and precious; while the settler-colonizers they are inhumanely, if not outwardly, ruthless. And according to my present knowledge, there is nothing in our world that might obstruct the colonizers from, joyfully, annihilating any deserted by their fellow citizens, and/or marginalized, and/or isolated, good leader. And, with no good leaders, a society can not prevail against any significant, internal or external, threat.

Concluding, I wish that no citizen may ever find his or hers self, neither on a bed suffering from terminal cancer, nor, institutionalized, as a consequence of criminal entryism; and I wish even more strongly that, no citizen may ever find his or hers self paying some kind of “high price” and thus, being obliged to deeply regret for not having done, the right thing, for the right reason, the right way, and at the right time.

Appendix

Definition: Triangulation.

In the service of the phony center, the press also utilizes a “triangulation strategy” to soften and minimize the most egregious atrocities taking place in the country. If there were a chance that people might learn of the secret government literally holding people as electronic slaves in distributed concentration camps created from the victim’s own homes and minds, the CIA would be portrayed as fighting the slave trade overseas. See, I cannot argue with fighting slavery overseas. It is a good thing, assuming it is real and not just more PR propaganda. But now it has purposely distracted from the domestic abuses. The general rule is to triangulate by emphasizing something similar to the domestic problem except that it is not quite so bad or is committed by bad criminals the government is chasing or by foreign groups or governments. It masks the most serious abuses (people can only concentrate on so many things). Someone not familiar with the idea of masking by triangulation might even think someone in the press was trying to help but, gosh, here at least is a watered-down something.

Triangulation here is similar to the “limited hang-out” strategy so often used by intelligence agencies when they fear worse exposures of their crimes. That is, they admit a few abuses that are bad but hardly the worst abuses or the bulk of the abuses, play up those admissions for a time, and then declare that “it’s time to move on.” Amazingly enough, after a few years they often begin denying and hiding the few admissions they actually made and we have what Robert Parry has called lost history (though most of the actual history was never revealed anyway).

Damnatio ad bestias

Damnatio ad bestias (Latin for "condemnation to beasts") was a form of Roman capital punishment in which the condemned person was killed by wild animals. This form of execution, which first came to ancient Rome around the 2nd century BC, was part of the wider class of blood sports called Bestiarii. The act of damnatio ad bestias was considered entertainment for the lower classes of Rome. Killing by wild animals, such as lions, formed part of the inaugural games of the Flavian Amphitheatre in 80 AD. Between the 1st and 3rd centuries AD, this penalty was also applied to the worst criminals, runaway slaves, and Christians.
